CHURCH OF THE HOLY TRINITY

RITTENHOUSE SQUARE

PARISH HOUSE

1904 Walnut Street Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

Telephone: LOcust 7-1267

To All Young Adults:

The Church of the Holy Trinity, because of Trinity Club, has come to be regarded as a center for young single persons and young married couples. A hearty welcome is extended to you to share in its fellowship.

Who comes to Trinity Club? Those who have begun to assume responsibility for themselves as independent young adult persons. They may be married, single, young office workers or students. While there are two distinct groups—young married and student-young adult—some fit into either group and may join in either program.

Trinity Club was organized to give young adults the opportunity to enter more fully into the life of the Church and the community—to worship God, hear and discuss topics of common interest and concern, create a bond of fellowship and understanding among young adults, and to answer their questions about the Church—its doctrines and practices and the application of Christian principles to life and the world today.

The program of Trinity Club emphasizes, therefore, a close relationship between good times, good works, and a vital religious consciousness. There is abundant opportunity for discussion, arts and crafts, book reviews, dramatics, music, hobby shows, hospitality, study groups, corporate communions, community and parish projects, welcoming other young adults at services and coffee hours, ushering, and calling on and making new friends.

Welcome, then, to Trinity Club, and new and lasting friendships, stronger marital relationships, new ways of looking at things and people and problems, a strengthening of beliefs and the practice of your convictions. You will find Trinity Club interesting and worthwhile, positive and practical, timely and challenging.

THE CHURCH OF THE HOLY TRINITY, because of Trinity Club, has come to be regarded as a center of young adult life. A hearty welcome is therefore extended to you to share in our fellowship.

Trinity Club was organized to give young adults the opportunity to enter more fully into the life of the Church and the community —to worship God, hear and discuss topics of common interest and concern, create a bond of fellowship and better understanding, and to acquaint them with the application of Christian principles to life and the world today. The program of Trinity Club, therefore, emphasizes a close relationship between good times, good works, and a vital religious consciousness.

You will note from the following pages of the 1954–1955 Year Book that "Supper at Six" will present a series on "The Arts" on first Sundays, "Vocational Christianity" on second Sundays, "Religions of the World" on third Sundays, and "Personal and Social Problems" on fourth Sundays, with special features on fifth Sundays.

Music at Trinity's evening services has always been appealing, with the Church Choir singing on the first and third Sundays and Trinity Club's own Choral Group on second and fourth Sundays. Planned are a series of cantatas with commentary, and "Music—Ancient to Modern," with selections from the masters characteristic of the periods. Students from Philadelphia's music and nursing schools and choral societies will further enrich the 7:30 hour with their choral and instrumental selections. Coffee Hour following, with discussion of the supper topic, will round out the evening.

Every Sunday evening two or more groups are honored at the supper hour. Although you may be a member of a particular group, please don't wait for that night. We want you to come and feel at home with us right through the season.

Welcome, then, to Trinity Club, and new and lasting friendships, new ways of looking at things and people and problems, a strengthening of your beliefs and the practice of your convictions. You will find Trinity Club interesting and worthwhile, positive and practical, timely and challenging.

Purpose . . .

We want to help you to see Christ—not only the Christ of the New Testament, but Christ as He lives in a group of people who follow Him. Perhaps you have never known what it is to be in a group of people who enjoy being together because they are drawn together by Christ. We would like by our action and behaviour and fellowship together to show you what a Christian community can be like, how we can live together creatively in spite of our differences; how we can put up with each other in spite of all the rough edges; how we can make allowances for each other and understand each other's weaknesses because we love one another as members of Christ in the fellowship of His Church. Christianity is never a private affair. It is always something that happens in company with others who serve Christ and in whose fellowship you find Christ's spirit as you never find it by yourself alone.

TRINITY CLUB is Center City Philadelphia's ecumenical youth fellowship for young adults of all churches or none, centering in the Church of the Holy Trinity, Rittenhouse Square, Walnut Street at Nineteenth.

Week after week, 150 to 175 young working fellows and girls, and graduate students, come to Trinity's Parish House, to eat together, listen to outstanding speakers discuss topics that are timely, instructive and inspirational, with opportunity to question the "experts."

Services at eight are planned with youth in mind—chancel plays; a variety of visiting choirs and choral groups; helpful sermonettes. Coffee Hours after services find young adults all over the building—friends meeting; gabfests turning into lively discussions; favorite slides being shown off; musical talent being displayed; humorous skits being acted out; singing going on around the piano; or, just relaxing, looking on.

Special interest groups keep a large and increasingly growing group personal—the young adult choir, meeting at five on Sunday evenings, for an hour rehearsal before supper; the Chancel Players and the Glee Club, Friday evenings from six until eight, beginning with supper together; some fourteen committees under the leadership of chairmen and co-chairmen, to help make things go, inviting participation, meeting needs. And there are opportunities to serve in the community—helping the Red Cross; singing at the Naval Hospital; painting parties; sing-go-rounds.

Seasonally and socially, there are many things to bring young adults together for wonderful times, with the Church as the sponsor and center—weekends at Radnor and Holiday House, Avalon and the Poconos; bridge and bowling parties; dressy dances that go over big; days at the shore, in the woods, at the Church Farm School, canoeing on the Rancocas.

It all adds up to an interesting group of young men and women entering more fully into the life of the Church and the community—worshipping together in spite of different backgrounds; hearing and discussing topics of common interest and concern; creating bonds of fellowship and understanding, new and lasting friendships, marital relationships, convictions about the meaning and purpose of life under God.

This is Trinity Club—interesting and worthwhile, positive and satisfying, timely and challenging. Welcome!

WHAT IS TRINITY CLUB?

This is a fellowship for young adults in their teens, twenties and thirties. It is made up of working fellows and girls; students from schools in and around the Philadelphia area; members of all churches or none.

They come to Trinity Club, sponsored by the Church of the Holy Trinity.

- to meet and eat together and enjoy each others' company and companionship;
- to hear and discuss topics of interest and concern, and question the "experts";
- to worship together, in evening services planned with youth in mind.
- to serve the community, as we have time and opportunity, through agencies needing help and volunteers;
- to enjoy wonderful times together—dances, bridge, outings and picnics, weekends, tours and musicals.

This, roughly, is Trinity Club — an active, happy, worthwhile fellowship, congeniality at its best, to which we welcome you!

A WORD ABOUT THE SUPPER–SERVICE PROGRAM

The program for 1957–1958 on the following pages grew out of a Young Adult week-end at Radnor Conference Center this past Spring. A different series has been planned for successive first, second, third, fourth and fifth Sundays, to give both variety to each month and continuity to each series month by month.

First Sundays: "World Religions" and their relation to our times will be discussed.

Second Sundays: "Social Problems" will give us the facts about Alcoholism, Faith Healing and other problems.

Third Sundays: "Open Sundays," allowing opportunity to schedule speakers and topics of current interest and importance—national, international, and otherwise.

Fourth Sundays: "Courtship, Marriage and Living Today," will feature those topics (and more) as outlined in the title itself.

Fifth Sundays: Group will discuss the effects of Mass Media—Advertising, Radio and Television and Newspapers—on our daily living and thinking.

Because we believe that we ought to worship together as well as eat and discuss together, services at eight—Evening Prayer, Choral Evensong and Holy Communion—are planned with Youth in mind, including orchestral artists, chancel plays, our own and visiting choral groups and choirs, and sermons designed to meet our need for inspiration and participation in the things of the Spirit.

An informal Coffee Hour follows the Sunday evening Service and rounds out our program.

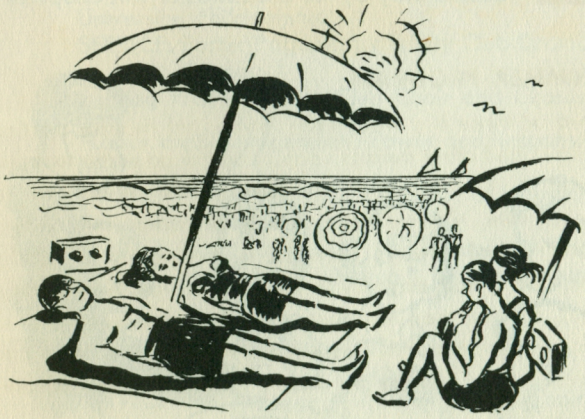
SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

The Social Committee certainly keeps busy planning dances, week-ends, movie parties and other good times for us throughout the year! Generally, two social events are scheduled each month. In addition, special interest groups meet regularly for bridge, bowling and other activities. Just for the record, our week-ends average 60 to 100; our dances 145 to 175.

DANCES

These seem to be very popular! We have all kinds—orchestra dances, record dances, square dances, movie dances! Our Fall Reunion Dance in September starts off our season! Then there are the special ones like the Holiday Frolic in December, the Valentine Hop in February and the Spring Dance in May.



WEEK-ENDS

In the fall we are off to the Poconos for a week-end at one of the famous resorts in the area! Our Radnor week-end in April is an annual event and this year's will be the fifth for Trinity Club. Another week-end may be planned; and . . . of course . . . we have more during the summer!

SUMMER PROGRAM

Two or three big week-ends, Straw-hat theatre parties, picnics and other outings keep us on the go in the summertime! A June tradition, Holiday House Week-End at Sellersville, Pennsylvania which provides outstanding country fun! Always popular, is Avalon—a delightful two and a half days by the sea at Avalon, New Jersey. And, last summer, we enjoyed a fabulous week-end at the Admiral Hotel in Cape May, New Jersey. Who can guess what's in store for Trinity Clubbers in the summer of 1958?

SOCIAL SERVICE ACTIVITIES

The Social Service Committee representing "Trinity" Club is interested in various social work activities and projects in the Philadelphia area. From time to time, representatives will be present at the Sunday Evening Programs to describe the type of service we, as a group and individuals, can contribute to the community.

As a follow-up, there will be a series of winter parties to entertain patients in hospitals; a large benefit concert; and a fix-up week-end in a sub-standard neighborhood. Thanksgiving baskets will also be packed and delivered to deserving families.

Many people have already volunteered their services for personal projects. They include: reading to the blind and working with newcomers from foreign countries.

MORE VOLUNTEERS ARE ALWAYS WELCOME!

Philadelphia's "smartest supper club" isn't to be found in a swank hotel. Try, instead, a friendly place just off lovely Rittenhouse Square—the Centennial Room of the Church of the Holy Trinity.

Trinity Club welcomes you. Here, each Sunday evening through the fall, winter and spring, well over a hundred men and women in their twenties and thirties come together for a supper-speaker program designed by them and for them.

Trinity Club's "patrons" are of many occupational and religious backgrounds, but they are bound by a common bent for growth of the intellect and the spirit. In such a climate, friendships spring up abundantly.

In its several years, Trinity Club has gone far beyond the hopes of its founders. It has become the largest club of its kind in this area, and, visitors tell us, one of the finest in the country. The caliber of the speakers listed in this booklet is evidence of its growing reputation.

Though big in participating membership, Trinity Club has retained a warmth that one hardly expects to find outside of a much smaller group. For the Christian young adult who is new to Philadelphia, it has provided a sure ground for the flowering of lasting friendships.

many ways in which to grow

Trinity Club members are a gregarious lot, and their activities range spectacularly beyond the Sunday program. There are frequent dances, sometimes dressy, more often not. A bridge group meets on alternate Monday evenings, and a mixed bowling league has attracted a zealous following. People who like to sing join the Trinity Club Choir, and clubs within the club in many fields of interest add to the social atmosphere. A fall weekend in the Poconos and a spring weekend at the Diocesan Conference Center at Radnor are supplemented by other "off-campus" events planned by an energetic social committee. During the summer, we're off to picnics, athletic outings, straw-hat theater parties and weekends in the country and at the seashore. Regular members get the low-down on all this activity in a monthly newsletter.

social service

Serving areas of need outside of one's personal circle is a Christian obligation, and Trinity Club fulfills this function through its Social Service Committee.

Ways in which young adults may be of service both as individuals and as a group are made known, and, when adaptable to group activity, organized.

Such activities in previous seasons have included volunteer work with the blind, entertaining hospitalized servicemen, parties for underprivileged hospital patients, delivering gifts to and visiting with men and women in homes for the aged, fix-up projects in sub-standard neighborhoods, and many varied services contributed by individual Trinity Club members.

TRINITY CLUB

FOR YOUNG ADULTS

WELCOME

A Trinity Club regular immersed in club activities was heard recently to observe, half-jokingly: "This is more than a club — it's a way of life." In truth, Trinity Club has been a "way of life" for many hundreds of young men and women in the Philadelphia area during the eight years since its modest beginnings.

It has touched on the lives of these young adults in many ways — as a bridge to friendship in a city that new arrivals sometimes regard as exceedingly close-knit, as an intellectual stimulus, as a channel for the self-discovery of social and leadership skills, as a living and growing example of God-centered group activity.

The heart of Trinity Club is its Sunday evening program. Well over a hundred men and women in their twenties and thirties, and of all faiths or none, meet in the Centennial Room of the Church of the Holy Trinity on Rittenhouse Square. They have supper together and hear a speaker who has been invited for his specific ability and experience. The opportunity to worship together is provided by Holy Trinity's Evening Prayer service, and the evening's activity is wrapped up by a coffee hour that is purely social.

TO TRINITY CLUB!

The Sunday evening program is a springboard for a wonderfully diverse assortment of other activities of proven appeal to active young men and women, and some of these are described throughout this booklet.

Trinity Club, in short, is an open door to friendship, good times and a wholesome development of mind and spirit. We feel that it is young adult Christian fellowship at its best.

In a word — welcome!

SOCIAL LIFE AT T. C.

Trinity Club's happy facility for attracting an ever-increasing circle of friendly and personable young men and women is due in no small part to its fun-slanted social program.

There is, for a starter, a dance each month (except during Lent), and wallflowerism here is a weed not to be countenanced.

You name it, and the T. C. social engineers (members just like you) will probably schedule it—bridge, bowling, day trips, drama and discussion groups, hi-fi concerts, square dancing, theater parties, resort weekends, ad infinitum.

Social events are announced at the Sunday evening sessions, and T. C. regulars (three times present on Sundays puts newcomers on the mailing list) get the good word on activities via the monthly Trinity Club News.

SUMMER SUNDAYS

Though Trinity Club's "official" season closes on May 15, each Sunday afternoon throughout the summer (except when a special weekend is listed) finds plans afoot for an outing — usually very informal and adaptable to six as well as sixty. These outings have included picnics, swimming parties, sporting events, auto rides and short expeditions via bicycle and horseback. A schedule of summer activities is distributed to the membership in May.

SOCIAL SERVICE

Compassion for the sick, the shut-in, the underprivileged is a route of Christian fulfillment and Trinity Club provides opportunities to help others through its social service program.

As a major project this year, Trinity Club has undertaken to implement a recreational program at Magee Memorial Hospital for Convalescents. Its purpose is to help persons undergoing physical therapy to better adjust to the non-handicapped world.

Other projects have included visits to homes for the aged, providing transportation for multiple sclerosis patients, collecting food for the needy, and staging entertainments for the underprivileged in hospitals. Areas where members may be of service as individuals, as well as collectively, are also brought to the attention of the club by the Social Service Committee.

DISCUSSION GROUPS

Starting early in the fall, the Rev. Edward L. Lee, Jr., Curate of the Church of the Holy Trinity and adviser to Trinity Club, will lead two series of discussion groups on weekday evenings. One group will be a Bible study class especially designed for the young adult who wants a basic grasp of the Bible rather than an advanced interpretation. The second group will be primarily a "talk" session which will use the previous Sunday evening's speaker topic to trigger discussion in further areas of interest. Particulars on these series will appear in the Trinity Club News.

THIS IS
TRINITY CLUB

Old jokes, like traditions, often hang on for dear life long after the original point has faded beyond recognition. One of these superannuated sallies is that Philadelphia "closes" on Sundays.

This quip is absolute fiction to the many hundreds of young men and women who have discovered Trinity Club in the nine years that its Sunday evening programs have been a glowing spot on the map of Philadelphia.

Trinity Club's time-tested recipe goes like this:

Take upwards of a hundred men and women in their 20s and 30s, bring them together for Sunday supper at a pleasant and convenient place (the Centennial Room of the Church of the Holy Trinity, 1902 Walnut Street) and face-to-face with a stimulating speaker. Give them the opportunity to worship together. And sprinkle generously with conviviality.

The Sunday program is the core of an ever-widening circle of other activities, some of which are described in these pages.

Trinity Club regulars have found the club to be a portal to friendship, good times and a wholesome growth of mind and spirit. To put it another way:

BE OUR GUEST!

Lee, Jr., the club's adviser, and members participate as ushers, acolytes, Bible readers and choir singers.

WEEKEND SPECIALS

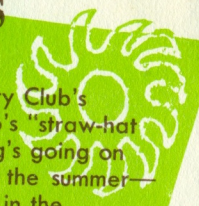
Breaking the social ice is a snap on one of Trinity Club's weekend "spectaculars." TCers hustle off to the Poconos on weekends in the fall and winter, to the Radnor Conference Center in the spring and to Holiday House (Bucks County) and Avalon Lodge (Avalon, N. J.) in the summer. And there are others!

RADNOR

PLANNING CONFERENCE

APRIL 28th • 29th • 30th

SUMMER SUNDAYS



As the curtain is rung down on Trinity Club's regular season in late May, the club's "straw-hat circuit" is off and running. Something's going on each Sunday afternoon throughout the summer—a picnic, a swimming party, a drive in the country, etc. These activities are designed to be fun for a handful or half a hundred, and they are deliciously informal.

SOCIAL LIFE at T. C.

Whether your taste runs to hoedowns or a quiet hand of bridge, Trinity Club's energetic social program has something for you.

The Social Committee plans a monthly dress-up dance and garnishes it with a variety of other events that have given Trinity Club a happy reputation as a group that knows how to have a good time.

TC people get the word on all this activity via the monthly Trinity Club News. Newcomers are placed on the mailing list when they have indicated their interest by attending three of the Sunday evening sessions.

SOCIAL SERVICE

Trinity Club's interest in and concern with the community is channeled through its social service work. TC people thereby find the opportunity to help others, in the belief that such work is part of their total Christian fulfillment.

A current project of the Social Service Committee is the city's Child Welfare Center, where, by means of parties, day trips and individual attention, the lives of many children from broken homes are made happier. Other projects have included the interior refurbishing of the Germantown Settlement House and assisting in the recreational program at Magee Memorial Hospital for Convalescents.

No matter what route the individual desires to take in serving others, Trinity Club's social service program can use his energies and his skills.

SEMINARS

While the Sunday evening speakers provide a steady source of intellectual stimulation, further pursuit is available through a Bible seminar led by Mr. Lee on a weekday night beginning early in the fall. It is geared to those who are seeking a basic understanding of the Bible and its relevance to everyday life. Rather than being a lecture class, the seminar intends to create an atmosphere in which ideas are freely exchanged and in which all may participate.

In addition to the weekly seminar, a study conference has been planned for the weekend of November 4, 5 and 6 to be held at Radnor.

TRINITY CLUB

FOR YOUNG ADULTS

Trinity Club is an organization of, by, and for young adults, designed to meet the needs of the whole person. It offers opportunities for self-expression in these three areas:

the serious side

Intellectual and spiritual development get a large share of attention in Trinity Club's total program. Worship services and Quiet Days accent the Christian fellowship that underlies all T.C. activities. Speakers, seminars, study conferences and spontaneous discussions stimulate growth of mind and spirit.

the social side

Young adults looking for new and interesting things to do and people to meet find both in Trinity Club. A varied program of social activities has something to offer for people of all tastes. And in Trinity Club's warm atmosphere, new friendships often flourish.

the service side

Trinity Club encourages its members in the use of their talents, interests, and abilities. They find opportunities to contribute to the success of the club through working with its committees and to contribute their skills and energies in the community through the Social Service program.

A WORD ABOUT TRINITY CLUB

"Have you heard about Trinity Club?"

This "opener" in one form or another is repeated hundreds of times a year by young adults in the Philadelphia area. An enthusiastic sales talk often follows.

When the mildly interested and the deeply curious come flocking to Trinity Club to "see what it's all about," they find:

A crowd of congenial young adults in their 20's and 30's meeting every Sunday evening in the Centennial Room of the Church of the Holy Trinity on Rittenhouse Square;

A supper hour and a stimulating speaker program;

An opportunity to join with other young adults in an evening worship service;

A coffee hour, where old jokes are swapped and new friendships begin;

A full schedule of lively social activities, special interest groups, and constructive service projects; and soon they are asking their friends "Have you heard about Trinity Club?"

To newcomers and their friends, to oldtimers and their friends, to you and your friends, Trinity Club says "Welcome!"

They fall into seven general categories: the Arts, Current Events, Religion, Social Problems, History, the Sciences, and Business. Well-informed speakers on these subjects were selected by the T.C. program committee.

EVENING PRAYER

As a Christian fellowship Trinity Club encourages its members to grow socially, intellectually, and spiritually. The fellowship of the club and the spiritual lives of its members are strengthened by the experience of common worship.

A service of Evening Prayer is held every Sunday night at 8 o'clock in the Church of the Holy Trinity. It is led by the Rev. Edward L. Lee, Jr., adviser to Trinity Club. Members participate by serving as ushers and acolytes, reading the Bible, and singing in the choir. The choir, open to all who are interested, rehearses Sunday afternoons at 4:45 p.m. in the church with Frederick Roye, organist and choirmaster at Holy Trinity.

The annual spring planning conference at Radnor is a major event on the Trinity Club calendar. Members get together at the Radnor Conference Center, a former Main Line estate, to discuss various aspects of Trinity Club's overall program and to make plans for T.C.'s future.

The Sunday evening speaker program for the coming year is always a major subject at the conference; general areas of interest are decided on and some specific topics are suggested.

Social activity in generous amounts is mixed in with the more serious business of the weekend.

TRINITY CLUB BOARD

Trinity Club is governed by a Board made up of officers, members-at-large, and chairmen and assistant chairmen of seven committees: Coffee Hour, Hospitality, Membership, Publicity, Social, Social Service, and Suppers. The Board is elected by the membership each January and holds open business meetings on the first Tuesday of each month.

Trinity Club committees function effectively only through the assistance and cooperation of many members, who find that pitching into committee projects is one of the best ways to feel at home in the club. The people who greet you at the door on Sunday evenings will be happy to direct you to the chairmen of the committees that interest you.

T.C. people are kept informed on Trinity Club activities through the monthly Trinity Club News and other publicity. Newcomers' names are placed on the mailing list after attendance at three Sunday evening speaker programs.

SOCIAL SERVICE

Trinity Club members render service to the community through a social service program that has grown steadily in its scope.

At Magee Memorial Hospital for Convalescents and at the Saunders Home for the aging, T.C. members give parties and visit with patients; children at the Methodist Home for Children get help with their school lessons from T.C. "tutors," and numerous scrub-and-paint sessions are held at the Germantown Settlement Waring House.

SOCIAL LIFE AT T.C.

For variety in activities and plentiful opportunities to share good times with interesting people, Trinity Club's social program is hard to beat.

Popular record dances in the Centennial Room each month are a Trinity Club tradition. Other events ranging from square dances to theater parties fill out the social calendar. Devotees of bridge meet regularly, and the club welcomes the organization of other special interest groups.

Trinity Club weekends are social "specials." Whether it's a summer jaunt to Avalon Lodge at the shore, a fall or winter weekend in the Poconos, or spring and summer weekends at "local resorts" (Radnor and Holiday House), there's always fun and informality.

Social activity doesn't slow down during summer months, either. Casual Sunday-afternoon outings for crowds of ten or fifty may feature picnics, canoe trips, horseback riding or a drive in the country.

To sum it up, for social-minded young adults "good times" and Trinity Club are synonomous.

SUPPER AND SPEAKER

At 5:45 the Centennial Room is the gathering spot for a congenial group of young adults, whose first thought is to join the supper line for a delicious meal, at only $1.25. The topics listed on the following pages concern the Arts, the Sciences, Travel, Religion, Social Sciences, and Current Events, as chosen by Trinity Club members at the Radnor Planning Conference last May.

EVENING PRAYER

An important part of Trinity Club's program is the encouragement of its members toward spiritual growth. A service of Evening Prayer, led by the Rev. Edward L. Lee, Jr., adviser to Trinity Club, is held every Sunday night at 8:00 in the Church of the Holy Trinity. Members participate by serving as ushers and acolytes, reading the Bible, and singing in the choir. The choir, open to all who are interested, rehearses Sunday afternoons at 4:45 p.m. in the church with Frederick Roye, organist and choir master.

COFFEE HOUR

QUIET DAYS

Twice a year, Trinity Club members have a unique opportunity to "get away from it all" and spend part of a weekend miles away from the problems, pressures and demands of everyday life in a setting of quiet and rest. This opportunity is known as a Quiet Day—a period of time for spiritual perspective and refreshment. Against a background of silence, participants spend this quiet "time-out" in thinking, reading, meditating, praying and worshiping—all of it intended to renew resources so often drained. Held at the Radnor Conference Center, a fifty-three acre former Main Line estate, the Quiet Days this year will be in Advent, December 13–14, and Lent, March 20–21.

An important part of Trinity Club's program is the encouragement of its members toward spiritual growth. A service of Evening Prayer, led by the Rev. Judson S. Leeman, adviser to Trinity Club, is held every Sunday night at 8:00 in the Church of the Holy Trinity. Members participate by serving as ushers and acolytes, reading the Bible, and singing in the choir.

COFFEE HOUR

Returning to the Centennial Room after Evening Prayer, Trinity Club members welcome the opportunity to socialize at a coffee hour. Here the members can see old friends, make new acquaintances, learn the latest gossip, and find out the current schedule of activities.

IN THEIR TWENTIES AND THIRTIES

15 YEARS

TRINITY CLUB'S CRYSTAL ANNIVERSARY

Congratulations Trinity Club! We're beginning our fifteenth year of fun, laughter, stimulating speakers, thought-provoking seminars and meetings of people to people. These are the keys to the Club's successful career.

To celebrate our fifteenth year, we have speakers on current topics of political, social and cultural interests scheduled. In previous years Trinity Club speakers have included Norman Thomas, Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, Mayor Richardson Dilworth, and Dr. Isadore S. Ravdin. This year our programs will range from "Big Game in East Africa" to topics of significant social concern like "The Menace Behind Drug Addiction."

Two weekends at the Radnor Conference Center of the Episcopal Church are in our plans, too. These are get-togethers for various purposes—study, planning our club activities, good fellowship and always a period of congenial fun. We also plan "Retreats" of meditation; seminars on religious topics; study of important books and issues. These are integral parts of the TC program.

Currently Trinity Club has over 200 members and in the last fourteen years unlimited numbers of young people between the ages of 19 and 39, of all races and creeds, have had contact with us.

Again, congratulations Trinity Club! To your officers and advisers, past and present, and to the Church of the Holy Trinity for encouraging this activity.

We welcome you to our group. In fact, your enjoyment here will add many more years to Trinity Club's age. We'd like nothing better than to have you join us.

Trinity Club

For Young Adults in their 20's and 30's

In The Four Seasons

A new year of Trinity Club has started with the Fall commencement of our regular Sunday evening programs, described in the pages that follow. However, Trinity Club does not "begin" or "end"; this year-round organization changes its activities according to the needs of the season.

In the past 15 years, Trinity Club has been introduced to hundreds of young adults living and working in the Delaware Valley. Many have stayed on as members and have brought in their friends to share the multitude of activities in the Centennial Room in the basement of the Church of the Holy Trinity on Rittenhouse Square.

The success of Trinity Club might be attributed to its background of limiting the membership only by age and of providing activities that meet the interest of the varied membership, whether this means listening to interesting speakers, going to the shore for a weekend, or getting together for bowling. More than this, Trinity Club is unusual in that, in spite of its large membership, the warmth and friendliness usually found in a small group still prevail.

In Trinity Club there are no dues. The membership requirements are only that you be between the ages of 18 and 39, and that you attend three programs in a six-month period.

We like to think Trinity Club is an organization that everyone can enjoy and be a part. We hope that you will come join us in the Centennial Room and that you will find the experience an enjoyable one.

ON SUNDAY EVENINGS

Food . . .

For thought as well as for the stomach, starts the regular Sunday evening program that is the nucleus of Trinity Club from September through May. Starting at 5:45 with an enjoyable dinner in the Centennial Room of the Church, the evening is highlighted by a talk on a subject requested by the general membership during the Radnor Planning Conference in April. These speakers and topics, listed on the pages that follow, have been selected on the basis of interest to members and visitors, and availability of fully qualified speakers.

Faith . . .

Can often strengthen the bonds of friendship in any group and Trinity Club carries this idea into the Evensong Service held every Sunday night at 8:00 in the Church of the Holy Trinity. For this service, the Club supplies the ushers, lectors and choir. The advisor, the Rev. Judson S. Leeman, M.D., aims his sermons toward the problems and interests of the young adult. Members and visitors of all faiths are invited to attend this easy-to-follow service. The offering is used to pay the Club expenses.

Fellowship . . .

Closes the Sunday evening program during the Coffee Hour following services, at 9:00. Through this informal hour, the old and new people in the club have a chance to catch up on future T.C. activities, and to renew or make new friendships in this spirit of fellowship that has helped Trinity Club to grow from the original twenty members, to the present more than two hundred.

PLANNING FOR THE FUTURE . . .

Takes place in April at the annual Radnor Planning Conference held at Denbigh Episcopal Conference Center in Radnor, Pa. At this time, all interested members of the Club meet in this attractive setting for a weekend of fun and serious discussion of the past and future activities of T.C. Out of these meetings come the over-all evaluation of the present Club programs, ideas for speakers and suggestions for future projects for the Social and Social Service Committees. The less serious side of the weekend is highlighted by the annual Trinity Club Dance, to which invitations are sent to the "graduates" of the Club.

SUMMERTIME . . .
AN' T.C. IS LIVELY

Socially Speaking

Although the summer months mean the Sunday night programs are inactive, the Social Committee keeps the Club from wondering, "What is there to do?" Just as it sponsors ski weekends, dances, and bridge parties during the Fall and Winter months, the Committee organizes during the Spring and Summer many shore weekends, beach parties, barbecues and summer theater trips. In keeping with T.C. tradition, these activities throughout the year are "stag" affairs.

In the News

Members find out what is going on in the Club by reading the "TRINITY CLUB NEWS." This newsletter is mailed to all those who have become members by attending T.C. programs more than three times and have received their white name tags.

In Terms of Service

Also continued through the summer are the activities of the Social Service Committee. This group is involved with the welfare of the children in Philadelphia General Hospital and the Stenton Child Welfare Center in Germantown. The projects include going to each of these places two nights a month and reading to the children, talking with them, and acting as a friend when they need one. This group also cultivates friendships with blind young adults and handles special service projects.

In Closing

Throughout this booklet, we have talked about the Club and its activities, but there is one thing missing that can assure the success of this venture started 15 years ago — YOU!
